

An Introduction to the Bailey Method

Optimizing Volumetrics and HMA Compactability

▶ 1 day course 7 PDHs

Are you having difficulty meeting volumetric and density specifications? Are you tired of paying project penalties based on volumetrics? The Bailey Method of aggregate analysis will be a valuable asset and resource for your business.

You will learn the practical “day to day” basics of the Bailey Method and its four principles. This introductory course will help you understand how aggregate properties affect aggregate packing, which in turn controls volumetrics and compactability.

You will leave this course with a fundamental understanding of the Bailey Method and a basic set of Excel spreadsheets to help you to analyze and control mixes during design, and in the field during production. Learn more about this course and the Bailey Method at www.asphaltacademy.org.

www.asphaltacademy.org

Dates & Locations

Visit www.asphaltacademy.org for future regional offerings or call 859.288.4972 to request this class. State Asphalt Pavement Associations and large contractors are encouraged to host this course at your facilities.

8:30 a.m. - 4:15 p.m.
(Lunch provided)

Fee

$325 (includes basic Bailey Methodology software)

“Great class. Information was tremendous considering the short duration of the course.”

Actual comment from student review.